Reusable personal-statement and adversity-essay bank

A private bank of your own stories and evidence, so you can reuse facts you already wrote instead of starting from zero for each award or application. It does not write the essay for you.

BEFORE I REUSE A STORY

Facts I must not invent or exaggerate.

Sentences I can reuse, in my own words, that still need a fresh opening for each prompt.

What this prompt is actually asking, and which story fits without stretching.

Keep this sheet private. Each application still needs an answer that fits that prompt. Do not submit the same unchanged essay when the question is different. Nothing here is a template to copy from someone else.
