High-school apprenticeship routes one-pager

OYAP in Ontario, youth apprenticeship in B.C. and RAP in Alberta on one page for high-school students and their counsellors. Checklist only; official forms stay on the official sites.

NAME _____ DATE _____

Route	Official page	Who to ask at school	Next step done
Ontario OYAP			☐
B.C. youth apprenticeship			☐
Alberta RAP			☐

- ☐ I talked to my guidance or co-op teacher
- ☐ I read the official route page
- ☐ I know whether hours can count toward my apprenticeship

SOURCES (CHECKED 2026-11-27)

For high-school students, Skilled Trades Ontario lists talking to a guidance counsellor about OYAP, Specialist High Skills Major, or dual credit programs as one way to find a sponsor. It also lists college career centres, job websites, Employment Ontario, unions and trade groups, local companies, and asking people who already work in the trades. https://www.skilledtradesontario.ca/apprenticeship/starting-your-apprenticeship/ (checked 2026-11-27)
SkilledTradesBC describes an apprenticeship as a mix of on-the-job training and classroom learning that can lead to a Certificate of Apprenticeship, a Certificate of Qualification, and, for Red Seal trades, a Red Seal Endorsement that is recognized across Canada.
https://skilledtradesbc.ca/start-an-apprenticeship (checked 2026-11-27)
Check current RAP details on the official page. https://tradesecrets.alberta.ca/ (checked 2026-11-26)