Tenant help walkthrough one-pager

Where tenants go for repairs, roommate problems and eviction: the official tribunal or office in your province or territory, plus Steps to Justice in Ontario. Checklist only, no form-filling.

NAME _____ DATE _____

Problem	Official office or tribunal (my province)	Web address	Read
Repairs			☐
Roommate dispute			☐
Eviction notice			☐
Deposit			☐

- ☐ I wrote down my province's official residential tenancy office
- ☐ I kept copies of messages, receipts and photos
- ☐ I checked a notice against the official page before acting

SOURCES (CHECKED 2026-11-27)

Tribunals Ontario's Landlord and Tenant Board page says the LTB is where you resolve a dispute with a landlord or tenant, and/or end a tenancy or co-op member's occupancy. It points members of the public to the Tribunals Ontario Portal to submit applications, check file status, upload evidence and use a dispute resolution tool, and to Navigate Tribunals Ontario to learn about rights, responsibilities, and LTB rules and processes. The page also notes operational updates, including process, form and rule changes effective 21 September 2026. Read the official LTB page before filing; this site does not file applications or give legal advice. https://tribunalsontario.ca/ltb/ (checked 2026-11-27)

Steps to Justice, a CLEO (Community Legal Education Ontario) site, publishes a Housing Law topic with questions on shared housing (including 'What are my rights if I live with roommates?'), renting, paying rent, repairs, privacy, human rights, moving out, eviction, the Landlord and Tenant Board process, tenant applications, and getting legal help. The topic page also points to Guided Pathways to fill out forms for the LTB and to fight an eviction if rent is owed, videos, and tipsheets on using the Tribunals Ontario Portal. This site does not fill forms or give legal advice; use the official pathways and your province's tribunal. https://stepstojustice.ca/legal-topic/housing-law/ (checked 2026-11-27)