Yukon's Student Financial Assistance portal page, last updated 8 October 2026, says applications for loans and grants are accepted online through the portal, and that applications for the 2026-27 academic year will be accepted starting 23 June 2026. You create a MyYukon account or log in to apply. The portal lets you submit applications for the Yukon Grant, Canada Student Financial Assistance, the Yukon Excellence Awards, and the Yukon Health Care and Social Services Bursary; upload supporting documents; check the status of your application; and view funding decision letters.

Yukon's full-time Canada Student Financial Assistance page, last updated 17 June 2026, says you can apply for full-time CSFA loans and/or grants through one application, and that you must submit your application at least 8 weeks before your classes end. Your funding may be cancelled if you apply when your study period has less than 8 weeks left and your classes end before your funding is deposited.

The Yukon Excellence Award, the official page says, encourages academic achievement in grades 10 to 12 in Yukon high schools and helps students pursue post-secondary education or training. You may receive up to $3,000 for 10 awards; each award is $300. The government calculates the amount; you do not need to apply to earn an award. In the year following your graduation, you will receive a letter at your home address about the awards you have earned. You can use the award for tuition, compulsory fees and books, and you may redeem the entire amount or part of it each year.

The Yukon Health Care and Social Services Bursary page, last updated 1 October 2026, supports Yukon students in health care and social services programs, including nursing and medicine, who plan to return to the Yukon to work. For 2026-27 it lists a Health Careers Bursary (target of 8 awards) of up to $3,000 for an eligible certificate or diploma or up to $7,500 for an eligible bachelor's or master's degree; a Nursing Bursary (target of 8 awards) of up to $7,500; and a Medical School and Residency Bursary (target of 6 awards) of up to $15,000. The 2026 intake is closed; details for the next intake will be posted in June 2027.
